

Western University
Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry
Basic Medical Science
Full-Time, Limited Term Faculty Position

Applications are invited for a full-time Limited Term academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. The initial appointment will be up to 3 years with the potential for renewal. The successful applicant will be appointed in a Basic Science Department within the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry best suited to the applicant's discipline.

Qualified candidate must have a PhD or equivalent in a discipline relevant to the biomedical sciences. In addition, a Masters of Education (MEd) or other formal training in education/pedagogy would be considered an asset. The candidate's interests should complement and support existing and future areas of the undergraduate Basic Medical Science Education programs \(BSc, BMSc\) and the MSc in Interdisciplinary Medical Sciences program, both of which are strengths of the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University. The successful candidate will be expected to take an active role in course development, teaching, student mentorship, and administration within the Interdisciplinary Medical Science (IMS) Undergraduate and Graduate Education program, to play a key role in the implementation and development of the interdisciplinary medical sciences curriculum, and to use the opportunity to undertake and demonstrate scholarship in education.

The candidate will be expected to teach at the senior undergraduate level in the IMS core courses and laboratories. The candidate will also be expected to participate in the further development and delivery of the graduate course-based IMS MSc program, which builds on the undergraduate IMS program and launched in May 2021. The position will entail active collaboration and coordination with colleagues in developing and delivering interdisciplinary courses that examine multiple perspectives of normal human function as well as diseases or illnesses (e.g., atherosclerosis, cancer, diabetes, neurodegenerative brain disorders). The candidate should have experience in teaching students using multiple modalities, i.e., in an online learning environment, in small group tutorials, in moderate to large classroom settings, in blended learning settings, and in laboratory settings. The candidate should also have curriculum design experience, especially with creating online materials. Consideration of applicants will include an assessment of performance in previous teaching and leadership roles, qualifications, and overall experience.

With a full-time enrollment of about 35,000, Western University graduates students with a full range of academic and professional programs (see <http://www.uwo.ca> to learn more). The university campus is in London, Ontario with a metropolitan census of 530,000, located midway between Toronto and Detroit. With parks, tree-lined streets and bicycle trails, London is known as the "Forest City". London boasts an international airport, galleries, theatre, music and sporting events. Western's Recruitment and Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families.

Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
