The Department of Medicine, Division of General Internal Medicine (GIM), Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, at Western University, London Health Sciences Centre and St. Joseph’s Health Care are seeking physician for a full-time clinical academic appointment to Western University. Applicants should be certified, or eligible for certification, in General Internal Medicine by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or equivalent. Candidates must have an MD or equivalent, and must be eligible for licensure in the province of Ontario. Individuals who have completed a 4 or a 5 year residency program in GIM may apply. The successful candidate will hold a limited term academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, or a continuing academic appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor depending on qualifications and experience.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and the brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University is one of Canada’s preeminent medical and dental schools. Established in 1881, it was one of the founding schools of Western University and is known for being the birthplace of family medicine in Canada. For more than 130 years, the School has demonstrated a commitment to academic excellence and a passion for scientific discovery. Throughout its history, Schulich Medicine & Dentistry has helped educate generations of physicians, dentists, scholars and scientists whose collective work has transformed the practice of medicine and dentistry, here in Canada and around the world. Faculty, students and alumni continue to fulfill their responsibilities as global leaders by sharing their knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

The Division of General Internal Medicine is composed of 13 full time academic and 3 adjunct internists and the group is poised for significant growth over the next 5 years. Successful candidates will participate in the academic and clinical missions of the Division and the Department. Clinical service commitments may include, but are not limited to, participation on Clinical Teaching Units (CTU), General Internal Medicine consultation services, and Urgent, Perioperative and GIM clinics at London Health Science Center and St. Joseph’s Health Care.

It is anticipated that a competitive candidate will be qualified to participate or lead innovation and/or research within one of the Division’s areas of scholarship: patient safety/quality improvement, medical education, and clinical trials. Advanced certification in any of these areas will be considered an asset. Applicants with training in Obstetrical Medicine are also encouraged to apply as this is a clinical area targeted for expansion.

The successful candidate will be an excellent communicator and collaborator with strong leadership skills. As an Academic Internist, clinical teaching will be expected at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be considered in the application process.

Remuneration is based on a combination of fee-for-service billings, alternate funding plan salary and academic salary.
