

Associate Professor
Arthur Labatt Family School of Nursing

The Arthur Labatt Family School of Nursing seeks an emerging/accomplished academic to join a leading edge School of Nursing with a 96 year history of academic and research excellence. The School of Nursing is one of six in a progressive Faculty of Health Sciences (<http://www.uwo.ca/fhs/>) and offers academic programs in nursing at undergraduate, masters, and doctoral levels. A new state-of-the-art building for the School opened in January, 2017.

Western University (<http://www.uwo.ca>) is one of Canada's leading research-intensive universities. It is located in London, Ontario, with a vibrant population of 422,000. Supported by an Academic Health Sciences Network, the region is known for excellence and leadership in integrated teaching, research, and patient care. Educational and research programs are supported through excellent relationships with health care and community agencies in the city and region. Support for research development is available through the Nursing Research Unit, the Faculty, and University. The University also offers programs to enhance the teaching enterprise through the Teaching Support Centre (<http://www.uwo.ca/tsc/>).

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The appointment will be a Probationary (tenure-track) position at the rank of Associate Professor. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Successful candidates will have knowledge, expertise, and a solid record of research productivity that align with one or more of the following fields of study in the School, namely Leadership in Nursing Education, Leadership in Health Services Delivery, or Leadership in Health Promotion and Advanced Nursing Practice. We seek candidates with scholarship, preferably in one or more of the following areas: health policy, pedagogy and curriculum, advanced quantitative research methods, aging, chronicity, diversity, advanced clinical practice, or nursing work environments that align with signature areas identified in the FHS Strategic Research Plan, http://www.uwo.ca/fhs/research/files/strat\_research\_plan\_2016.pdf.

As the successful candidate, you will have a PhD in Nursing (or related discipline), and have an independent, robust research program in your field of study. You will also have demonstrated skills mentoring students and an outstanding record of teaching in graduate and/or undergraduate programs. In addition to your research and scholarly activity, you will be responsible for teaching across programs offered in the School, as well as service to the School, Faculty, University, and Profession as appropriate. Applicants for this position will be Registered Nurses (Regular or Extended class) who are eligible to practice with no restrictions with the College of Nurses of Ontario.

The effective date of appointment is September 1, 2017. The Appointments Committee will commence the review of applications on May 5, 2017 and continue to receive and review applications until the position is filled. Please quote number HS-168 on all correspondence.
