Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility Specialist

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, at Western University and the London Health Sciences Centre invites applications for a full time clinical academic position in Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility.

The Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology is an academic department fully immersed in a range of educational and research programs, providing women’s health care services for London and the surrounding Southwestern Ontario region. The successful candidate will be one of four specialists providing reproductive endocrinology and infertility treatments, including assisted reproductive technology, at Victoria Hospital, London Health Sciences Centre.

Responsibilities will include:
1. Active participation in team-based health care.
2. Active involvement in teaching, both at the undergraduate and post graduate levels.
3. At least 35% time commitment to research, education and/or administrative activities in the Department, Hospital and/or the University.

Qualifications include:
1. Specialty certification in Obstetrics and Gynaecology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.
2. At least two years of accredited training in Gynecologic Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility.
3. A keen interest in academic medicine.
4. Ability to collaborate effectively with all other members of the health care team and office staff.

Rank will be determined by experience and qualifications at the time of the appointment. This is a Clinical Academic appointment and candidates must hold an MD degree or equivalent, specialty certification in Obstetrics & Gynaecology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada or equivalent, be eligible for licensure in the Province of Ontario, and have completed accredited Fellowship training in reproductive endocrinology and infertility. Salary is commensurate with experience and training.

Successful candidates will hold faculty appointments at an appropriate rank in the Department and at the University.

Interested applicants should forward a detailed Curriculum Vitae which will be held in strict confidence to:
