

Full-time Probationary (tenure-track) Appointment – Department of Psychiatry
Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry
Western University

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Department of Psychiatry, at Western University, is seeking a candidate for a Full-time Probationary (tenure track) appointment. The successful candidate will be an exceptional emerging innovative researcher, with the potential to lead in their field.

The successful candidate must lead and grow an innovative, interdisciplinary, applications oriented research program that would attract excellent trainees, external research funding, and foster collaborative partnerships. The successful candidate will have demonstrated interest and experience in collaborative clinical research with a focus on first-episode psychoses, including application of behavioural interventions that target cognitive impairments in this population, and examining the effect of these treatments on the brain. An additional research focus on structural neuroimaging to understand the neural systems that underlie clinical and cognitive features of psychosis would be an asset. The successful candidate will have a proven record evidenced by publications as well as grant funding success and a record of mentoring and supervising students at various levels of training.

The successful candidate holding a PhD in a relevant field will be appointed in a Probationary (tenure-track) position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Psychiatry with a cross appointment in the Department of Medical Biophysics. Consideration will be given for an appointment at the rank of Associate Professor in a Probationary (tenure-track) or Tenured Appointment depending upon qualifications and experience. Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

With annual research funding exceeding $220 million, and an international reputation for success, Western ranks as one of Canada's top research-intensive universities. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western also provides an exceptional employment experience, offering competitive salaries, a wide range of employment opportunities and one of Canada's most beautiful campuses.

The Department of Psychiatry (<http://www.schulich.uwo.ca/psychiatry/>) is organized around four academic Divisions including General Psychiatry, Geriatric Psychiatry, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, and Forensic Psychiatry, as well as recognized Programs in Neuropsychiatry and Developmental Disabilities. Our Divisions and Programs provide an academic home for approximately 80 clinical academics and 6 basic scientists and support education, training and research in each of these areas.

With full time enrollment of 32,000, Western graduates students from a range of academic and professional programs. Further information about the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry can be found at www.schulich.uwo.ca. Western's Recruitment & Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families.

The application must include detailed curriculum vitae, brief description of the current research program, accomplishments, at least five representative publications in the last five years, and the names and contact information of three academic references. Please send the complete application to:
