COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course will be devoted to a range of historically important questions in philosophy. We will explore in particular issues in the following four core areas of philosophy:

1. Epistemology: This is the area of philosophy in which the focus is on knowledge and the justification of belief. We shall consider such questions as: What is knowledge? What is the nature of justification? Is knowledge possible? Are any of our beliefs justified? Are we able to choose what to believe?

2. Metaphysics: This is the area of philosophy in which the focus is on what exists or is the case. We shall consider such questions as: Does God exist? Are there minds or souls? Are there bodies? Do we possess freedom of the will? What is the nature of truth and falsity?

3. Ethics: This is the area of philosophy in which the focus is on the nature of right and wrong, good and bad. We shall consider such questions as: What makes an action right or wrong, permissible or impermissible? What makes something good or bad?
4. Practical Ethics: This the area of philosophy in which the focus is on how one ought to live and on how society ought to regulate itself. We shall consider such questions as: How many people ought there to be? How ought we to react to the fact of global warming? What ought to be done about global poverty? How ought we to treat non-human animals? What justifies punishment?

OBJECTIVES
This course has four main objectives. The first is to acquaint students with some historically important problems in philosophy, their articulation and their attempted resolution. The second is to provide students with a deeper appreciation of the ways in which philosophy impacts on our daily lives. The third is to equip students with some of the skills required for conducting philosophical research. The fourth is to help students develop the ability to express philosophical concepts and arguments clearly and economically in writing.

REGULATIONS

1. Audit

   Students wishing to audit a course should consult with the instructor prior to or during the first week of classes.

2. Submission of essays

   Please submit your assignments electronically. Do not submit a paper copy.
   In order to submit your assignment, visit the OWL site for this course. On the left-hand navigation menu you will find the assignment tool. Click on this tool and you will find the assignment guidelines and basic instructions for submitting your assignment. To submit your assignment upload it and click on the submit button at the bottom of the page.
   A corrected version of your paper will be returned to you through the OWL site.

3. Turnitin.com

   All required papers will be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted will be included as course documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com).

4. Accommodation

   Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth 10 percent or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or the department. Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The UWO Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness and further information regarding this policy can be found at:
5. Late essays and penalties

An essay will be considered late if it is handed in after the due date without a prearranged extension (or after the extended date, in the case of an extension).
Late essays will be penalized at the rate of three percentage points per day late.
Essays more than ten days late will not be accepted.

6. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a form of cheating. Plagiarism is unacknowledged copying or paraphrasing of the words or ideas of another person. In general, anyone who learns something from a source (other than course lectures or general background knowledge any student of the course could reasonably be expected to have) and then presents that knowledge as their own discovery is considered to have plagiarized, even if the words used to express the ideas are not exactly the same.

Examples of plagiarism include: misrepresenting co-authored or group work as individually done, cutting and pasting copied or paraphrased work by others in with your own work, paraphrasing or otherwise altering the order of words or phrases and/or substituting words or phrases of similar meaning without acknowledgement that you are doing so, aiding and abetting such offences, among others.

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Scholastic offences are taken very seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/

7. E-mail policy

I am not able to respond to philosophical concerns or questions over e-mail. I will deal with such concerns or questions during my office hours only. If you have a problem turning in an assignment on time or you need to make an appointment with me or you have some private issue you wish to communicate to me, feel free to use e-mail. Otherwise, please attend my office hours or make an appointment to see me.

8. Statement on Use of Electronic Devices

Feel free to use electronic devices in class but please use them for academic purposes only.
9. Prerequisites

Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission form your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

10. Department of Philosophy Policies

The Department of Philosophy Policies which govern the conduct, standards, and expectations for student participation in Philosophy courses is available in the Undergraduate section of the Department of Philosophy website at http://www.uwo.ca/philosophy/undergraduate/policies.html. It is your responsibility to understand the policies set out by the Senate and the Department of Philosophy, and thus ignorance of these policies cannot be used as grounds of appeal.

11. Mental Health

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help. Immediate help in the event of a crisis can be had by phoning 519-661-3030 (during class hours) or 519-433-2023 (after class hours and on weekends and holidays).

The policy on Accommodation for Mental Illness is here: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.
