DESCRIPTION: Using micro-CT technology developed at Robarts Research Institute, this high-resolution, 3D image depicts two renderings of a mouse heart’s musculature and vasculature. Researchers hope to use this technology to better understand cardiovascular disease.

RESEARCHER: Maria Drangova, Robarts Research Institute, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry

TECHNOLOGY: Micro-CT