DESCRIPTION: This planning image of a prostate brachytherapy procedure uses a 3D ultrasound-based system invented and developed at Robarts. The system allows doctors to plan and guide brachytherapy needles inserted into the prostate to deposit radioactive seeds to treat prostate cancer.

RESEARCHER: Aaron Fenster, Robarts Research Institute, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry

TECHNOLOGY: 3D ultrasound-guided prostate brachytherapy