Professor Sarah Bassnett

Email: sarah.bassnett@uwo.ca Virtual office hours – Tuesdays 2 – 2:30 pm via zoom Class time: Tuesdays 11:30 am – 1:30 pm in VAC 247 + asynchronous

Course Description:

This seminar is for MA, MFA, and PhD students who hope to contribute to public discourse on the visual arts. We consider different forms of evaluative, expository, and narrative writing in relation to recent exhibitions and other events in the world of visual art. Concentrating on op-eds, exhibition reviews, and catalogue essays, we discuss how to write for various kinds of publications and a range of audiences. We apply techniques to improve aspects of writing such as structure, style, argumentation, and narrative. Students also learn how to offer constructive feedback to peers. This seminar will be held in person with additional asynchronous course content and activities.

Western University is located on the traditional lands of the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak, and Chonnonton (Neutral) peoples on lands connected to several Treaties including Treaty 6 London Township, Treaty 7 Sombra Township, Treaty 21 Longwoods and the Dish with One Spoon Covenant Wampum.

Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- engage in writing as a process by drafting and revising your pieces of writing
- · discuss and analyze selected articles
- communicate ideas in orally and in writing at a professional level in a variety of forms and to different audiences
- conduct research using scholarly and reputable news sources. Use these sources effectively to develop and express personal values on issues in the visual arts
- participate constructively in group discussions and workshops by offering feedback, sharing ideas, and listening respectfully to the views of others
- apply writing techniques and incorporate feedback from peers and the professor

Enrollment Restrictions: Enrollment in this course is restricted to graduate students in the Department of Visual Arts, as well as any student that has obtained special permission to enroll in this course from the course instructor as well as the Graduate Chair (or equivalent) from the student's home program.

ASSESSMENTS_

DUE DATES & GRADING

Assignment	Due date	Grading
Participation	Weekly	15%
Workshops	Feb 7 & Mar 28	10%
Opinion piece	Feb 11 @ 11 pm	25%
Presentation	Feb 28 & Mar 7	10%
Catalogue essay	Apr 6 @ 11 pm	40%

Participation 15%

The participation portion of your grade will be based your contributions to discussions and activities. Please note that this course includes synchronous and asynchronous elements, and there is a weekly schedule. You are expected to complete course work on a weekly basis, and this includes contributing to asynchronous VoiceThread activities and synchronous discussions.

Workshops – 10%

The workshops are a key aspect of the course. They start from the premise that every piece of writing is in process, and throughout the course we approach writing as a process. As such, workshops offer the opportunity to discuss unfinished work and to see the possibilities for each piece of writing. Guidelines for workshops will be discussed in class.

Opinion piece – 25%

The term op-ed means "opposite the editorial page," because in the era of print newspapers, opinion pieces by individuals were published opposite editorials written by newspaper staff. Now, many media outlets publish op-eds online and even produce newsletters of opinion and analysis from a variety of authors, often providing a platform for diverse opinions. Examples include The Guardian, The New York Times, and The Conversation. Opinion writing is based on research and conveys a specific viewpoint. Your opinion piece should be approximately 1000 words. There are two stages to this assignment: a draft for the workshop, and the final submission.

Presentation – 10%

Select a catalogue essay that offers a model for the essay you plan to write. Scan and submit the essay to me by the required date. You will be responsible for presenting an overview and moderating the class discussion on the essay. In addition, your presentation should outline plans for your own catalogue essay.

Catalogue essay – 40%

This assignment is a 2000-word essay suitable for an exhibition catalogue. It should focus on a body of work by one artist, but it does not have to relate to an actual exhibition. There are two stages to this assignment: a draft for the workshop, and the final submission.

POLICIES ON LATE OR MISSED ASSESSMENTS

Extensions, granted for valid reasons, must be negotiated before assignments are due. Late assignments will be penalized by 5% each day. Exceptions to the late penalties are outlined below under academic consideration.

Academic Consideration:

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by extenuating circumstances, including short-term illness or injury. Reasonable academic consideration is a cooperative process between the University, the student, and academic staff. All participants in the process must act in good faith, and fulfil their respective obligations, if it is to succeed.

To minimize requests for extensions, each of you will have two grace days to use on the final drafts of the op-ed assignment or the catalogue essay. In other words, no late penalties will be applied to these assignments until after you've used these two days. You can use them all at once (i.e. hand an assignment two days late and still get full marks), or you can use them for different assignments. You cannot use the grace days for presentations or workshop drafts and feedback.

Once you've used up your grace days, the grade penalty is 5% for each calendar day, including weekends, that it is late. All late assignments, whether covered by the grace days or not, will be subject to the following conditions:

1. Late papers may be graded and returned later than those submitted by the deadline

2. A grade will be given, but no (or minimal) comments will be provided

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

All work for the course MUST be entirely your own. All sources that you use for your assignments must be accurately cited. If you have doubts about how and when to cite sources, it is better to err on the side of caution. Consult the academic integrity lesson on OWL and / or consult with me before assignment due dates. All course work must be completed specifically for this course. Submitting the same work for credit in more than one course is considered cheating. Plagiarism and cheating are very serious academic offences and they will be dealt with strictly. Plagiarism includes:

- Quoting verbatim or almost verbatim from any source, including all electronic sources, without acknowledgement
- Adopting someone else's line of thought, argument, or supporting evidence without acknowledgement
- Submitting someone else's work, in any form, without acknowledgement
- Knowingly representing another person's idea as one's own

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_grad.pdf

All assignments are subject to review through plagiarism detection software. The University uses Turnitin.com for this purpose. Turnitin is an anti-plagiarism tool that screens assignments against a database of the Internet, e-journals, e-books, and a range of other scanned material, including other assignments for this course. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system.

CITATION STYLE

The Chicago Manual of Style, Humanities format, is the standard style for art history. Use this style to cite your sources for your research paper and other assignments. Please refer to the guide in OWL and the Library website for examples: http://www.lib.uwo.ca/services/styleguides.html.

POLICIES & CONDUCT

Student Conduct

Students will conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the maturity and academic integrity expected of university students. Student conduct shall be consistent with the general laws of the community and with University regulations. Students shall show regard and respect for the rights, safety, and property of all members of the University community and are expected to act in a responsible manner within the University and the community at large. https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/code_of_conduct.pdf

I am committed to fostering a class environment that is comfortable for all students, especially those from marginalized or underrepresented backgrounds. These core values include using preferred gender pronouns and human-centred language, which convey respect for people's diverse experiences. We do not always have to agree with one another; however, everyone is expected to show respect for the views of other people. Behaviour that is disruptive or discriminatory will not be tolerated.

Absences on Religious Holy Days

For purposes of this policy "the University has approved a list of dates which are recognized religious holidays which require members of those religions to be absent from the University; this list is updated annually and is available at departmental, Deans' and Faculty advising Offices." For Western's Policy on Religious Holidays see http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg119.html.
