Alexander, depicted with his horse Bucephalus, fighting the Persian king Darius III in the Battle of Issus 333 BC, from the Alexander Mosaic of Pompeii, ca. 100 BC (National Archaeological Museum of Naples, Italy)

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

During his short reign (336-323 BC) Alexander III of Macedon conquered the vast Persian empire and brought Greek culture to the mountains of Afghanistan and across the Indus River. Even though he was only thirty-two years old at the time of his death, he is arguably one of the most significant figures in all of recorded history. At the same time, almost every aspect of his life and legacy has been the subject of intense controversy. Julius Caesar and Napoleon Bonaparte admired him as a military genius. Modern scholars have called him a dreamer of the ‘unity of mankind’ (W. Tarn 1948) but also one of the ‘worst monsters history has to offer’ (V.D. Hanson 1999).

This introductory course will consider the rise of Philip II of Macedon to supremacy in the Greek world, Alexander’s background and upbringing, his military campaigns, policies, plans, and personality. The reasons for the differing views about him will also be explored.

2 lecture hours, 0.5 course

PREREQUISITES: There are no prerequisites for this course.

YOUR INSTRUCTOR:

I am Dr. Bernd Steinbock and will be your instructor for this course. After studying Latin, Greek and History in Germany, my native country, I earned my PhD in Classical Studies at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. I came to Western in 2005 and have served for many years as Undergraduate Chair in the Department of Classical Studies. If you have any questions about the courses and programs we offer, please come and talk to me either after class or during my office hours.

I generally teach both ancient Greek language and history courses. My teaching reflects my research interests, which lie at the point where history and literary texts intersect, since I view history as a dynamic discourse with texts as active participants. I am particularly interested in how people in the ancient world viewed their own past, what this past meant to them, and how it affected their political decision-making. My book Social Memory in Athenian Public Discourse: Uses and Meanings of the Past engages these issues.

The University of Western Ontario
Department of Classical Studies

In May 2025 my colleague Dr. Gino Canlas and I will lead Western students on an adventure-packed 2-week-long Study Tour to the most fascinating sites of the ancient Greek world. We will explore Athens, Sparta, and Mycenae, consult the oracle at Delphi and walk over the battlefields at Marathon and Thermopylae as well as Chaeronea, where Philip II of Macedon with the help of his young son Alexander completed his conquest of Greece. If you are planning to join our Study Tour to Greece in May 2025, come to our info session in October and submit an application.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

By the end of this course, successful students will be familiar with important events in 4th-century BC Greek history and will have gained a broad understanding of Philip II of Macedon's rise to supremacy in Greece and Alexander's conquest of the Persian empire. They will have learned key concepts (polis, Macedonian kingship, league of Corinth, Persian empire, etc.) and theoretical models (charismatic leadership, etc.), appropriate for the study of the social and political history of Greece, Macedonia, and the Persian Empire in the age of Alexander the Great. They will be able to assess and comment critically upon the problematic original source material for this period (to be found in the Sourcebook edited by Room) and test modern interpretations (such as discussed by Cartledge) against the ancient evidence. In so doing, students will develop an understanding of the limits of our knowledge of the ancient world and will come to appreciate the practice of History as an ongoing dialogue between past and present, where current models of interpretation are constantly being questioned, revised and refined, and tested against the available evidence.

LEARNING OUTCOMES / TRANSFERABLE SKILLS:

By the end of this course, students will have learned how to evaluate ancient source material for its reliability and significance. In doing so, they will develop the ability to gather, review and assess ancient literary, archaeological, and artistic sources as well as pertinent modern scholarly literature and be aware of the limitations of the available evidence. They will have improved their skills in critical thinking and analysis—skills which are transferrable to a variety of fields of study and professional employment, and which will improve their appreciation of any text.

REQUIRED BOOKS:

Cartledge, Paul. Alexander the Great: The Hunt for a New Past. New York: Vintage Books, 2005 (ISBN-13: 978-1400079193) (ca. 25$)

Romm, James (ed.). Alexander the Great: Selections from Arrian, Diodorus, Plutarch, and Quintus Curtius. Indianapolis: Hackett Publishing Company, 2005 (ISBN-13: 978-0872207271) (ca. 22$)

EVALUATION:

Online Quizzes (5, lowest score will be dropped): 20%
In-Class Midterm Test (Feb. 13): 30%
Final Exam (cumulative) (April exam period): 50%

FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT EVALUATION:

1. Online Quizzes (5, lowest score will be dropped): 20%

There are 5 bi-weekly multiple-choice quizzes in this course. Quizzes will be completed online using the Tests & Quizzes tool in OWL. The quizzes will be available for a 24-hour window and are due by 1 pm EST on Tuesdays as scheduled below. Each quiz will focus on the material from the previous two weeks of the course. The lowest mark will be dropped, with the remaining four quizzes each constituting 5% of the final grade. Students will have a 24-hour window to complete each quiz, but once they begin, they will have to complete the quiz within 15 minutes. It is up to the students to ensure they have a good internet connection and sufficient time to complete the quiz once started. Each quiz will consist of 10 multiple choice questions. Questions will cover both assigned readings and lecture materials. Questions will occur in a randomized order and will be drawn from a large bank of questions, so that different students will see different sets of questions on each quiz. The structure of the quizzes is linear, which means that students will be able to view and complete one question at a time and will not be able to return to a previous question once they have moved on to the question. A missed quiz results in a mark of zero. Note: Since the lowest of the 5 quiz scores will be dropped and each quiz only counts 5% of the course grade, there will be no make-up quizzes in the case of illness or personal crisis.

Department of Classical Studies

Quiz dates are:

- Quiz 1: January 21, covering weeks 1-2
- Quiz 2: February 4, covering weeks 3-4
[Midterm Test: February 13]
- Quiz 3: March 4, covering weeks 5, 6, 8
- Quiz 4: March 18, covering weeks 9-10
- Quiz 5: April 1, covering weeks 11-12

2. In-Class Midterm Test (Feb. 13): 30%

The Midterm Test will consist of multiple-choice questions and take place during class time on Thursday, February 13. Questions will cover both lecture materials and assigned readings. No aids are allowed. If you miss the Midterm Test due to illness or provable personal crisis, you must seek academic consideration from the Office of the Dean of your home faculty and provide documentation (see note on Policy on Consideration for Student Absences below). The make-up test will not necessarily be in the same format, be of the same duration, or cover the same material as the original test.

3. Final Exam (Cumulative): 50% [EXAM PERIOD IN APRIL]

The final exam will be scheduled by the registrar during the exam period in April and be held in person. This exam consists of multiple-choice questions. It is cumulative and no aids are allowed. Students will be expected to apply their knowledge of the assigned texts as well as of key concepts and ideas learned in the classroom. If you miss the Final Exam due to illness or provable personal crisis, you must seek academic consideration from the Office of the Dean of your home faculty and provide documentation (see note on Policy on Consideration for Student Absences below). The make-up exam will not necessarily be in the same format as the original exam.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES:

1. Students seeking academic consideration for any missed assignments (worth more than 10%) due to illness or provable personal crisis must apply to the Office of the Dean of their home faculty and provide documentation (see note on Policy on Consideration for Student Absences below). Make-ups CANNOT be granted by the instructor alone.
2. If you miss an exam due to illness or provable personal crisis, you must also contact the instructor within 48 hours. If you do not contact me, the grade of F will stand.
3. Students should note that missed quizzes will be counted as zeroes. Since the lowest of the 5 quiz scores will be dropped and each quiz only counts 5% of the course grade, there will be no make-up quizzes in the case of illness or personal crisis.
4. Those who miss classes or parts of classes remain responsible for material they have missed. Students are encouraged to form study groups in order to assist each other in preparing for tests and for discussion of assigned readings.
5. There is no extra credit in this course; there will be no re-weighting of the course components.

TECHNICAL REQUIRMENTS:

This course requires you to have a reliable internet connection and a computer that meets the technical requirements for writing online timed assessments.

NOTE FROM THE DEAN OF ARTS AND HUMANITIES: Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

STUDENT ABSENCES

If you are unable to meet a course requirement due to illness or other serious circumstances, please follow the procedures below.

Assessments worth less than 10% of the overall course grade:

Since the lowest of the 5 quiz scores will be dropped and each quiz only counts 5% of the course grade, there will be no make-up quizzes in the case of illness or personal crisis.

Assessments worth 10% or more of the overall course grade:

For work totalling 10% or more of the final course grade, you must provide valid medical or supporting documentation to the Academic Counselling Office of your Faculty of Registration as soon as possible. For further information, please consult the University's medical illness policy at https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/academic_consideration.pdf

The Student Medical Certificate is available at https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf.

Absences from Final Examinations

If you miss the Final Exam, please contact the Academic Counselling office of your Faculty of Registration as soon as you are able to do so. They will assess your eligibility to write the Special Examination (the name given by the University to a makeup Final Exam).

You may also be eligible to write the Special Exam if you are in a "Multiple Exam Situation" (e.g., more than 2 exams in 23-hour period, more than 3 exams in a 47-hour period).

If a student fails to write a scheduled Special Examination, the date of the next Special Examination (if granted) normally will be the scheduled date for the final exam the next time this course is offered. The maximum course load for that term will be reduced by the credit of the course(s) for which the final examination has been deferred. See the Academic Calendar for details (under Special Examinations).

Note: missed work can only be excused through one of the mechanisms above.

RELIGIOUS ACCOMMODATION: When a course requirement conflicts with a religious holiday that requires an absence from the University or prohibits certain activities, students should request accommodation for their absence in writing at least two weeks prior to the holiday to the course instructor and/or the Academic Counselling office of their Faculty of Registration. Please consult University's list of recognized religious holidays (updated annually) at:

ACADEMIC POLICIES:

STUDENT UWO EMAIL ACCOUNT: The website for the Office of the Registrar is <http://www.registrar.uwo.ca>. In accordance with policy (https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/policies_procedures/section1/mapp113.pdf), the centrally administered e-mail account provided to students will be considered the individual's official university e-mail address. It is the responsibility of the account holder to ensure that e-mail received from the University at their official university address is attended to in a timely manner.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES: No electronic devices will be permitted on tests and exams. In this course, students are permitted to use AI tools (such as Chat GPT) exclusively for information gathering and preliminary research purposes. These tools are intended to enhance the learning experience by providing access to diverse information sources. However, it is essential that students critically evaluate the obtained information, exercise independent thinking, and engage in original research to synthesize and develop their own ideas, arguments, and perspectives. The use of AI tools can serve as a starting point for exploration, however students are expected to uphold academic integrity by appropriately attributing all sources and avoiding plagiarism. Assignments should reflect the students' own thoughts and independent written work. By adhering to these guidelines, students contribute to a responsible and ethical learning environment that promotes critical thinking, independent inquiry and allows them to produce original written contributions.
