

The Department of Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University

The Department of Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery at the Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University invites applications for a full-time Otolaryngologist specializing in Ablative and Reconstructive surgery. The successful candidate must have an MD or equivalent and have specialty certification in Otolaryngology by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, be eligible for licensure in the Province of Ontario, and have completed training in or developed a focus of expertise that would be complimentary to the department's academic environment. Specifically:

1. Fellowship training in head and neck oncology and reconstruction
2. Experience treating patients with endocrine disorders, salivary gland disorders, head and neck cancer and complex head and neck reconstruction
3. Experience performing head and neck ablation and microvascular reconstruction.
4. A strong interest in teaching and collaboration within the Department to expand and enhance clinical teaching.
5. A keen interest in academic medicine including research, and teaching at the undergraduate and post graduate levels.
6. The ability to collaborate effectively with all other members of the health care team and department staff.
7. Advanced training in a discipline complementary to the academic mission of the department having shown success in research publications in the area of head and neck oncology or relevant research area.

This is a hospital/university position with an academic rank, remuneration, and contractual arrangements commensurate with experience and qualifications. The successful candidate will be a Clinician Teacher or Clinician Researcher and hold a Full-Time Limited Term Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, or a Continuing Clinical Academic appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Full Professor, depending upon experience and qualifications at the time of appointment.

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University is one of Canada's preeminent medical and dental schools. Established in 1881, it was one of the founding schools of Western University and is known for being the birthplace of family medicine in Canada. For more than 130 years, the School has demonstrated a commitment to academic excellence and a passion for scientific discovery. Throughout its history, Schulich Medicine & Dentistry has helped educate generations of physicians, dentists, scholars, and scientists whose collective work has transformed the practice of medicine and dentistry, here in Canada and around the world. Faculty, students, and alumni continue to fulfill their responsibilities as global leaders by sharing their knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

The London Health Sciences Centre Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery Program serves a catchment area of more than 1.5 million residents in Southwestern Ontario. The regional service also provides tertiary and quaternary level care to patients from other regions of the Province and plays an essential role in the support of several other regional programs. The Department Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery is heavily involved in undergraduate, post-graduate and continuing medical education programs at a high level. The applicant would be joining five other fellowship trained head and neck surgical oncologists.
