ACADEMIC POSITION - EMERGENCY MEDICINE PROGRAM

Clinician Researcher and Director of Research

The Department of Medicine, Emergency Medicine, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University, St. Joseph's Health Care London, and London Health Sciences Centre is seeking a physician for a full-time continuing clinical academic appointment to Western University. Applicants should be certified, or eligible for certification, by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or the College of Family Physicians of Canada with Added Competence in Emergency Medicine, or equivalent. Candidates must have an MD, or equivalent, and must be eligible for licensure in the province of Ontario. The successful candidate should currently hold a clinical academic appointment at the rank of Associate or Full Professor.

Western University delivers an academic experience second to none. Western challenges the best and brightest faculty, staff and students to commit to the highest global standards. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western attracts individuals with a broad worldview, seeking to study, influence and lead in the international community. Since 1878, The Western Experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social and cultural growth in order to better serve our communities.

The Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry at Western University is one of Canada's preeminent medical and dental schools. Established in 1881, it was one of the founding schools of Western University and is known for being the birthplace of family medicine in Canada. For more than 130 years, the School has demonstrated a commitment to academic excellence and a passion for scientific discovery. Throughout its history, Schulich Medicine & Dentistry has helped educate generations of physicians, dentists, scholars and scientists whose collective work has transformed the practice of medicine and dentistry, here in Canada and around the world. Faculty, students and alumni continue to fulfill their responsibilities as global leaders by sharing their knowledge and expertise for the benefit of all.

The Division of Emergency Medicine currently consists of 90 diverse and progressive academic clinician educators, administrators and researchers. The successful candidate for this position will have an established track record as a researcher and will be expected to continue to grow the research mission of the Division of Emergency Medicine. This Clinician Researcher will join our research team as the Director of Research and will supervise research at all levels, including undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate trainees. In addition, the successful candidate will be an experienced clinician who will be expected to provide clinical supervision of fellows, residents, and medical students in our Emergency Departments and Urgent Care Centre. The successful candidate will be expected to oversee the research budget and to participate in the academic commitment of the Division and Department.

The Director of Research will provide leadership, and encourage and promote all types of research by members of the Division of Emergency Medicine (DEM). They will work closely with the FRCPC and CCFP(EM) Residency Program Directors to ensure residents meet the research requirement of their programs. The Director of Research will encourage faculty involvement in research and provide a supportive environment in which to conduct clinical research in the LHSC Emergency Departments and St. Joseph's Health Care Urgent Care Centre. They will collaborate across disciplines and with investigators at other universities to grow the DEM Research Program. They will have experience in grant application and submission and will have a proven track record of grant success.

Applicants must have extensive experience in Emergency Medicine research.

Compensation for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience and will be composed of fee for service income, alternative payment plan income and academic productivity-based compensation.
