Western Libraries invites internal applications for an up to 5-year Appointment as Head, Archives and Special Collections starting July 1, 2024.

About Archives and Special Collections

Archives and Special Collections acquires, manages and provides access to internationally recognized fonds and collections including the Serge A. Sauer Map Collection, James Alexander and Ellen Rea Benson Special Collections, several signature archival fonds including the Labatt Brewing Company Collection and the Gustav Mahler-Alfred Rose Collection as well as extensive local history archives and university archives. Fonds and collections are comprised of various media formats including rare books, music scores, maps, comic books, audio-visual materials, digital and born digital records, photographs/photographic negatives and extensive textual records. The physical extent of holdings is in excess of 1.5 million items.

ASC provides the following functions relevant to its holdings including: teaching and learning, collections management, discovery and access, research support and reference, conservation, preservation, digitization, outreach, web archiving and scanning on demand as well as coordinating records management services for the University. ASC manages two public service points: the Archives and Research Collections Centre (ARCC) Reading Room and the Map and Data Centre (MDC). ASC’s primary focus is on facilitating research by faculty members, undergraduate and graduate students, and external scholars, as well as supporting primary source instruction and documenting the history of the University. ASC also engages with and welcomes use of archives and special collections holdings by members of the broader community.

About the Role of Head Archives and Special Collections

Reporting to the Associate Chief Librarian (Collections), the Head, Archives and Special Collections (ASC) provides strategic and operational leadership, supervision and mentoring to a team currently composed of five Archivists, three Librarians, four Archives Assistants, and several student positions (Student Library Assistants, Coop students, etc.).

The Head participates as a member of Western Libraries’ Management Committee, collaborating with other leaders to provide integrated, user-centred services that support research, teaching excellence, and student learning. This is achieved through open, constructive communication, staff engagement, shared accountability, and a sense of common purpose.
