

Vice-Provost (Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies)

London, Ontario

“The Western Experience” is founded on an unwavering commitment to outstanding student engagement across the spectrum of the university student experience, including a deep commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and decolonization. Combining academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth, Western has been preparing future leaders to contribute to their communities since 1878. Offering 53 doctoral and 83 master’s programs, Western is a founding member of the U15 group of Canada’s most distinguished research universities – a destination university for high-performing students. The newly released Strategic Plan Towards Western at 150 outlines a bold vision for the University’s future.

Reporting to the Provost, the VP (SGPS) is the chief academic and administrative officer of the School of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies. The VP (SGPS) provides senior executive strategic oversight for graduate and postdoctoral education, planning and policy, program development, quality assurance, relevant internal and external relations, and team management – all with an abiding focus on advancing the principles of equity, diversity, inclusion, and decolonization. The VP (SGPS) works with graduate students and postdoctoral scholars, administrative leaders, faculty, and staff across the University to continually strengthen the learning and research environment, foster the development of interdisciplinary programs as well as domestic and international partnerships, and ensure that Western offers optimal education, financial, health, and career supports for graduate students and postdoctoral scholars.

Collaborative, student-centred, and intellectually curious with an interest in all disciplines, the VP (SGPS) will be skilled in influencing, building relationships, and achieving consensus. The role requires a doctoral degree and a respected record of scholarship and teaching, consistent with appointment at the rank of Professor at Western, including substantial experience supervising graduate students. The VP (SGPS) will have a successful record of progressive administrative leadership, including experience with financial / budget oversight, ideally earned in a peer Canadian university as a graduate studies dean, associate dean, and/or chair. Consultative, far-sighted, open to possibilities, and an excellent communicator, the VP (SGPS) will be a trusted and professional team leader. This is an opportunity to work productively with diverse internal and external partners and stakeholders to advance the pursuit of knowledge and original thought across the University, to prepare future leaders for careers of impact both within and beyond academe, and to champion Western’s vision to be “a destination of choice for the world’s brightest minds seeking the best learning experience at a leading Canadian research university.”
