

Guggenheim Fellowships – Project Fields of Study

Part of the application for the Guggenheim Fellowship is to include the Project Field(s) you study covers. Please select from the options below.

African Studies	Fine Arts
American Literature	Fine Arts Research
Anthropology & Cultural Studies	General Nonfiction
Applied Mathematics	Geography & Environmental Studies
Architecture, Planning, & Design	History of Science, Technology, & Economics
Astronomy – Astrophysics	Intellectual & Cultural History
Biography	Law
Biology	Linguistics
Chemistry	Literary Criticism
Choreography	Mathematics
Classics	Medicine & Health
Computer Science	Medieval & Renaissance History
Constitutional Studies	Music
Dance Studies	Music Research
Drama & Performance Art	Near Eastern Studies
Early Modern Studies	Philosophy
Earth Science	Photography
East Asian Studies	Physics
Economics	Poetry
Engineering	Political Science
English Literature	Psychology
European & Latin American History	Religion
Fiction	Sociology
Film-Video	Theatre Arts & Performance Studies
Film, Video, & New Media Studies	Translation
	United States History