

How to install Altmetric Bookmarklet (for Chrome, Firefox, and Safari)

1. Visit the webpage <https://www.altmetric.com/solutions/free-tools/bookmarklet/>, and then:
 - Scroll down, fill in the information required (Name, email, etc.),
 - Select “Institutional” as the “Organization Type”,
 - Select the checkbox next to “I’m not a robot”, and then click on “Get the Bookmarklet”.

Quick and easy

The Bookmarklet makes it easy for researchers to get started with altmetrics – just fill in the form below and you'll be shown how to add this simple tool to your browser. Free-to-subscribe email addresses such as gmail.com, yahoo.com, 193.com, or 163.com are not permitted – you will need to use an email address registered at your institution or organization.

First Name *

Last Name *

Email *

Company *

Job Title *

Organization Type * ▼

Country * ▼

☐ Send me emails about products and updates for other parts of Digital Science

☐ I'm not a robot

Get the Bookmarklet

By filling this form and using this free tool, you are consenting to receive emails about other parts of Altmetric and their products, reports, and events. You can change your email settings in our preference center. For complete details, please visit <https://www.altmetric.com/privacy-policy/>.

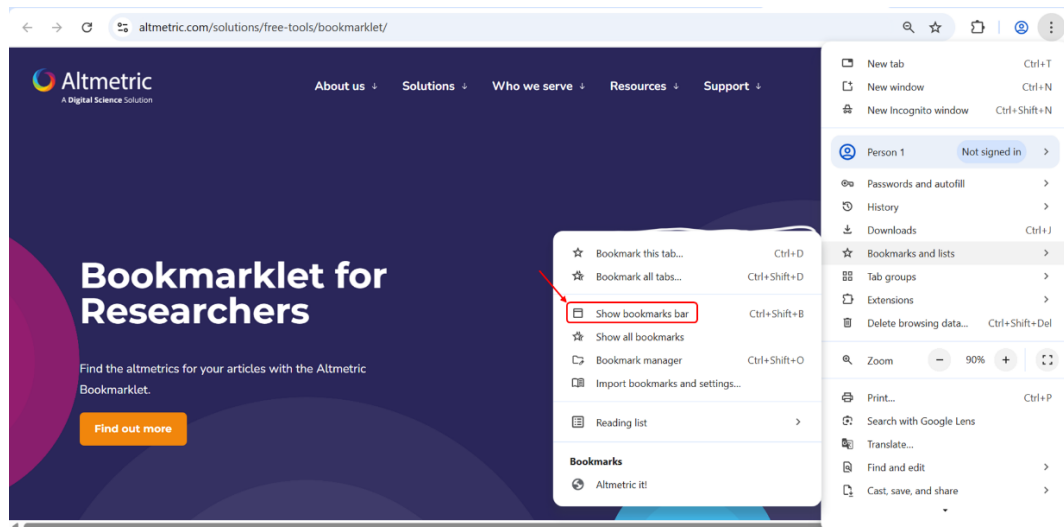

2. When you reach the page with this icon: , open your bookmarks bar, then drag the icon into it. Follow the steps below for your web browser to see how to show the bookmarks bar.

➤ For Chrome users

- i. Click on the three vertical dots at the top-right corner of the browser, and click on “Bookmarks and lists”.

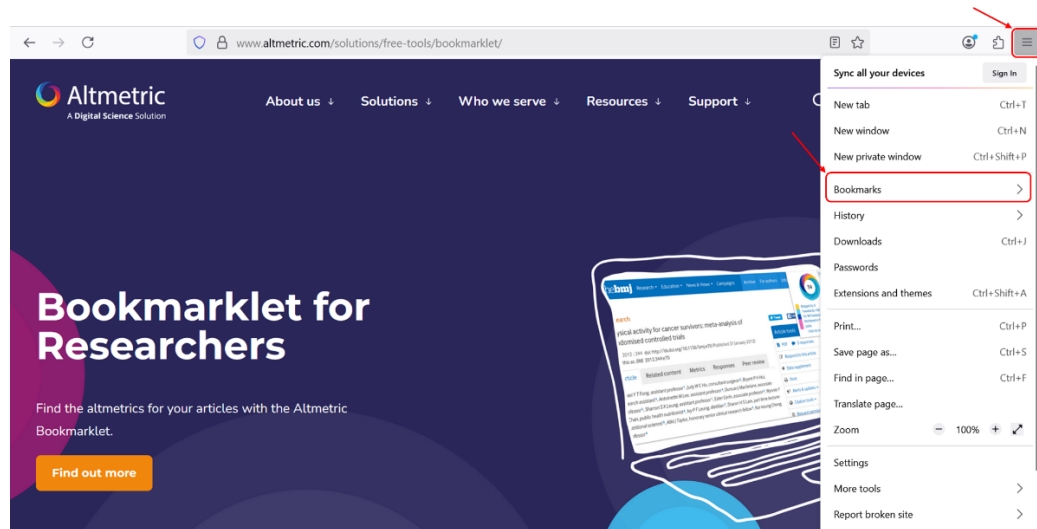

- ii. Click on “Show bookmarks bar”.

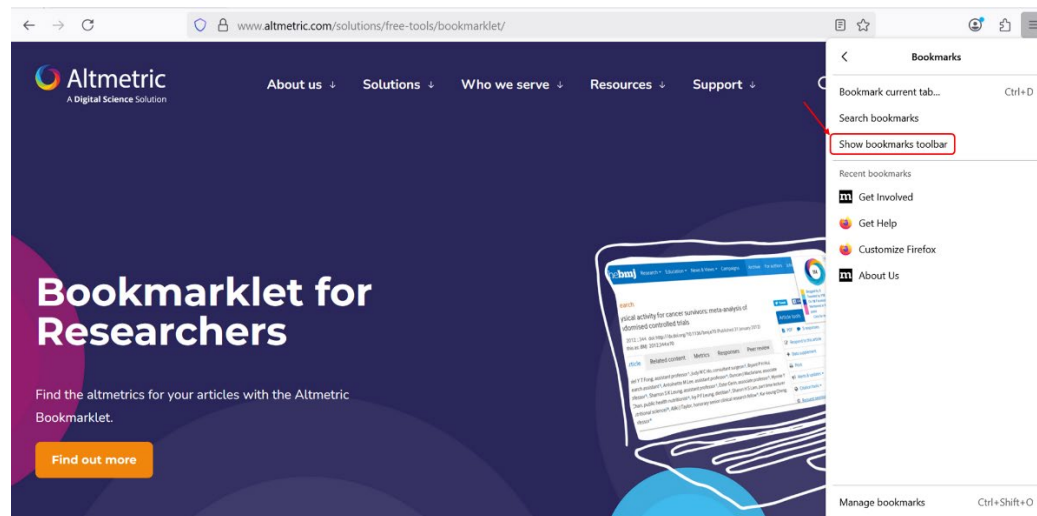

➤ For Firefox users

- i. Click on the three bars at the top-right corner of the browser, and click on “Bookmarks”.

- ii. Click on “Show bookmarks toolbar”.

➤ For Safari users

Click on “View” on the menu bar at the top of the browser, and select “Show Favorites Bar” from the dropdown menu.