

LEARNING

DEVELOPMENT & SUCCESS

TIP #1: LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

Serious about getting work done? Find a good location.

THINGS TO CONSIDER:

- Pick one place, and like it
- Get comfortable – but not too comfortable
- Look for natural light
- Swap music for ambient noise
- Turn off your phone
- Remember to leave

ACTIVITY:

Keeping these criteria in mind, as well as your own personal preferences when it comes to the ideal study environment, I'd like you to take a minute and write out a list that outlines a) the components that make a productive study space for you and b) locations that you can access that fit that criteria or could fit that criteria with some slight modifications to the space.

What makes a productive study space for you?	What locations meet these criteria for you or could with slight modifications?