CHAN, Sarah	HBA &amp; Health Sciences / Ivey
As a Health Sciences-Ivey dual-degree student, I'm running to serve as Ivey's Undergraduate Senator. Ivey's culture is loud, but isn't the full story. I've heard quieter conversations: difficulty finding your people even within your section, subtle discrimination, and the pressure of keeping up in an environment that moves fast but doesn't always listen. As President of Western's Health Sciences Program, former President of Western Founders Network, a Section 2 OWL (Pylons unite!), and a former Residence Soph, I've worked closely to listen to students at different stages of their journeys and translate frustration into dialogue decision-makers pay attention to. This year, I created a motion to address ancillary fees owed to my council, advocated for student donations to be prioritized toward student opportunities over capital expenses, and advanced conversations with faculty surrounding neurodivergence and universal design. Working closely with Ivey's current Senator, I've seen how underutilized Senate representation is and how much potential exists to better connect Ivey students to university-wide policy. I'm running because I care deeply about closing that gap. I bring a deep understanding of Ivey within the broader university, experience navigating the bureaucracy, and a commitment to ensuring student concerns don't stop in the hallway.	 A professional headshot of a young woman with long dark hair, smiling. Integrated Engineering / Engineering

Dear Engineering, Business, Education & Law Students, My name is Amrithaa Logeswaran, and I'm running to be your next Student Senator for the Business, Law, Education, and Engineering constituency. It has been over five years since a student from Engineering, Business, Law, or Education has held this Senate seat. It's time for a much-needed change. My journey in student government at Western first began as a First Year Representative for the Undergraduate Engineering Society (UES). Being so far from home, I remember feeling so much imposter syndrome and uncertainty if I truly belonged. I ran for First Year Representative because I didn't want other people to feel the same way I did, and that's how I found my purpose through student advocacy and policy. Beyond UES, I've been involved with the University Students' Council, serving as an OUSA Delegate at the Fall 2025 General Assembly and representing over 36,000 Western students in provincial policy discussions. Advocacy is so important in ensuring the quality of the student experience here at Western. Senate is the place to advocate for our experiences, and I am the committed to representing your concerns. SHARMA, Shiven

Software Engineering & HBA / Engineering

As a dual-degree student in Software Engineering and Business, I understand the challenges students face across our most demanding faculties. I am running for Senate to ensure the Ivey, Education, Engineering, and Law constituency is represented by an experienced voice. I currently serve on the Senate Review Board Academic (SRBA) and the University Discipline Appeals Committee (UDAC). These roles have given me experience navigating university policies and governance, while ensuring students are treated fairly. An understanding of the student body is essential to effective advocacy. Beyond governance, I have had the pleasure of serving in many leadership positions across campus, including as the President of Western AI, a lead on Western Aero Design, and an executive on Ivey Consulting Club, which have prepared me well to represent our constituency in the Senate. I strive to make governance more accessible for students and ensure communication about university affairs is a two-way street. I would be honoured to have your vote, and look forward to being your honest, open, and accessible representative.

YU, Bruce

HBA / Ivey

The University of Calgary bans instructors from charging for mandatory homework assignments. It's time we did the same. For far too long, Western students haven't had a real voice fighting for better academic practices. As your representative on Senate, I will draw on my experience serving on not-for-profit corporate boards to hold Western accountable. I bring a strong record of public policy advocacy, testifying at the Ontario legislature on education reform and championing fair assessment practices in the national media. I am currently Vice-Chair for the University Students' Council, Chair for the PurpleCare Trust Health Plan and bring tested political experience working for three Ontario cabinet ministers. A vote for Bruce is a vote for putting student interests first – for a change.
